Why Choose SelectHealth?

SelectHealth provides easy access to a variety of specialists in HIV and transgender healthcare at hospitals, physician groups, and private practices. Because we know you are more than your status or pronoun, our provider network includes excellent specialists in other types of medicine, including:

- cardiology (the treatment of heart and blood vessel conditions or diseases),
- dermatology (the treatment of skin, hair, and nail conditions or diseases),
- pulmonary medicine (the treatment of lung disease),
- endocrinology (the treatment of hormone problems and related diseases, such as diabetes),
- and more.

SelectHealth Provides Each Member a Care Management Team

With SelectHealth you have your own team of care providers. You can count on these experts to know you and your healthcare needs. Using our nationally recognized approach to care coordination, a care manager leads your team to coordinate your services. This helps you get the care you need, when you need it to promote your lifelong wellness.

SelectHealth care management teams include:

- The doctor or nurse practitioner you choose as your primary care provider. Your primary care provider coordinates your medical treatment. If you are living with HIV, your primary care provider is an HIV specialist.

After you join SelectHealth you will receive care from our network of providers for all medical care, except in certain limited circumstances. We advise you to make sure the primary care provider you choose participates in the SelectHealth network and is available to provide care to you.

- A care manager who coordinates support services that are important to you and your family.
- A team of other caring professionals who work closely with your primary care provider and care manager to help you maintain your good health and wellbeing.

SelectHealth was created for New Yorkers by New Yorkers. We are dedicated to serving people with complex health needs, with the expert care and supports they need to live well in their communities.
